

ACUI STUDENT PROGRAMS ELIGIBILITY & CODE OF CONDUCT

ACUI was founded in 1914. ACUI is a nonprofit educational organization that brings together college union and student activities professionals from more than 500 colleges and universities in eight regions and seven countries. ACUI reaches future leaders in the profession and in society through programs designed to appeal to a wide variety of student interests. If you are looking for leadership development, peer-to-peer networking, or a chance to compete in recreation and leisure activities, these programs might be exactly what you need. Recognizing that the primary purpose of student life on campus is academic achievement, to further underscore the importance of continuing academic progress, students participating in ACUI student programs must be enrolled as a student in good standing at the institution they represent. To that end, ACUI hereby establishes the below expectations for students participating in its programs.

Eligibility Requirements

- All participants must meet eligibility criteria established by their school.
 - All participants are limited to six years of eligibility. Students enrolled at two-year institutions are limited to three years of eligibility; if they transfer to a four-year school, six years total.
 - All undergraduate and graduate student participants must be in good academic standing with their institution in the academic term in which they qualified for the program.
 - All participants must be enrolled as of the academic term in which they qualified for the program for at least nine credit hours (six credits for graduate students) and must complete six credit hours between all program appearances. Seniors who will be graduating at the end of the academic term, may be considered full-time if they are taking all hours needed to complete their degree.
 - All undergraduate and graduate student participants must be enrolled as a student in good conduct standing at the institution they represent, as determined by the institution in which they are currently enrolled.
 - For participation in championship-level competitions, certification of eligibility must be made by an advisor or authorized staff member of the school. All participants in international-level competitions are required to provide registrar's seal and signature.
- Drinking and illegal drugs are not allowed during programs regardless of the students' age.
 - No smoking, e-cigarettes/hookah, or chewing tobacco is allowed on the field.
 - Come prepared with a positive attitude, a willingness to take risks, and a desire to have fun.
 - Respect and uphold ACUI policies and philosophies of advancing campus community builders through unconditional human worth, joy, learning, caring community, innovation, diversity, and integrity.
 - Participants agree to abide by any additional regulations laid out by the host range.
 - ACUI supports the filming of the event, and an athlete's participation or a spectator's attendance grants ACUI permission to use their image. That image can be used for reproduction in any media and for promotional purposes of the sport and the ACUI tournament.
 - Participants are representing their institutions and the Association. All participants should adhere to the dress code for their respective events. The dress code is designed to provide for safety, support an environment conducive to all learning, respect individuality, and preserve the dignity of each student who is able to participate.
 - ACUI expects participation to be based on one's self-identified gender and that it is done in good faith and is consistent with a player's expressed gender identity. A participant's gender identity will be applied when there are gender-specific rules or player ratio requirements for co-rec divisions. Transgender individuals may compete in the division that best matches their self-identified gender identity. The campus official or advisor who approves registration for the event should verify the gender is based on the participant's self-identification and expressed gender identity, not purely on the sex indicated in official school records.

Code of Conduct Expectations

- Students are expected to review all advanced mailings and material received regarding the program. Information should also be shared with their campus advisor.
- Access to cell phones, pagers, mobile devices, and electronic music devices is subject to the event coordinator's discretion during the competition or program sessions.
- Negative posts, belittling accomplishments, bullying, posting of denigrating comments, or impersonating others in public or social media that creates a hostile environment within our otherwise inclusive community are a violation of the ACUI Code of Conduct in place for all ACUI student programs. This code explicitly states that as a participant it is an obligation to abide by the conduct guidelines and that violation of them may jeopardize one's status as a participant in this program.

Participants are also expected to:

- Refer to the 2021 match program and supplementary documents regarding specific tournament information and guidelines.
- Adhere to all safety and COVID-19 guidelines outlined in the program and reviewed at coach and team leader prep meetings.
- Agree to be a part of the community and upholding the responsibilities as a member.

Traveling Coach/Advisor Code of Conduct

Contact with athletes from other teams/institutions, for the purpose of coaching or recruitment, without the permission of the acting team coach/advisor of the athlete is prohibited at ACUI events in order to maintain the integrity of all involved.

Coaches/advisors are expected to indicate their understanding of the obligations associated with participating in ACUI Collegiate Clay Target Program and that failure to fulfill these expectations may jeopardize their status as a participant in this program. As part of registration, coaches/advisors agree that ACUI will only publish personal information pertinent to participation in an event, which includes directory-type information (name and institution) and scores from an event. ACUI requires expressed permission to give out contact information and information regarding academic eligibility to anyone, regardless of relation. While no signature is required at the ACUI conference championships, a signed document is required as part of the collegiate championship event in March. Either way, by registering for the event, coaches/advisors acknowledge that they meet the requirements of both the code of conduct and eligibility rules stated.
